1. The Kwangtung Military District Headquarters had made available some 400 students who graduated from the local Public Safety Bureau cadres school last month and who have signed up for service in the local Public Safety Corps. These students will be organized into six investigation teams, each team comprising 30 to 40 men equipped with one monitoring machine* and 10 bicycles. Their duties will be to investigate and check on local residents on the black list. They are under the direct control of the Kwangtung Military Area Headquarters.
2. On the night of 20 December, the Kwangtung Military District Headquarters held a meeting in which they decided that all families of Communist political workers who were left behind at Canton should report at the Headquarters by 22 December and be evacuated en masse from Canton by 25 December.

* Comment. No description of this machine is included in the report.
